

Lesson 3

Share

SAY

We are going to sing our Writing Chart. “Who wants to write? We do! Who wants to share thoughts? We do! Who wants to use their words to share their thinking? We do! Ok, get ready, set, begin!”

Sing the chant with students 1-2 times.

DO

Writing Time

Writing Chart

Who wants to write?
We do!
Who wants to share their thoughts?
We do!
Who wants to use their words to share their thinking?
We do!
Ok, get ready, set, begin!

Lesson 3

Remember that the writing process helps us learn the steps we can take to do our very best writing. So, let's look at the Writing Process Anchor Chart and review together.

This process is:

1. Prewrite
2. Compose
3. Share
4. Feedback
5. Polish Writing
6. Final Draft

After your writing is finalized, we are going to congratulate each other with a celebration of our learning. We are going to share our drawings and thinking with another friend about ways to make new friends. Turn to your new partner and take turns sharing your drawing and writing so far. You are all doing a wonderful job! Pat yourself on the back!

Listen as students share to assess students' ability to ask and answer questions in order to seek help, get information, or clarify something that is not understood.

Feedback

Now we are going to tell our partner one thing they did really well and one thing they can do better in their opinion writing. Watch me.

Lesson 3

DO

Read the Interactive Opinion Writing piece.

SAY

One thing we did well was state the topic of our opinion writing. One thing we can do better is adding more details about the best way to understand your feelings. Now, it's your turn. Turn back to your last partner and look at their drawing and writing again. Think about one thing they did well and one thing they can do to make their writing better.

DO

Give students space to share while supporting students with reading and understanding their partner's reading and drawing. Listen as students share to assess students' ability to ask and answer questions in order to seek help, get information, or clarify something that is not understood.

Lesson 3

Polish writing

SAY

Let's all thank our partners for their feedback with a handshake, high five, or fist bump. Now, we are going to polish our writing by adding to it or changing it based on the one thing your partner and teacher said you did well and one thing you should fix to make your opinion writing stronger. Let's look back at our Interactive Opinion Writing Piece and our feedback. One thing we did well was state the topic of our opinion writing. One thing we can do better is adding more details about the best way to understand our feelings. So, I am going to go back to this sentence, "I think the best way to understand your feelings is to know when you are sad." I am going to add more details and say, "I think the best way to understand your feelings is to know when you are happy and sad." Can you give me a thumbs up if you agree?

DO

Check for student understanding with thumb-o-meter.

Lesson 3

Remember that the writing process helps us learn the steps we can take to do our very best writing. So, let's look at the Writing Process Anchor Chart and review together.

This process is:

1. Prewrite
2. Compose
3. Share
4. Feedback
5. Polish Writing
6. Final Draft

After your writing is finalized, we are going to congratulate each other with a celebration of our learning. Before we get started, I want to remind you to use what we've learned to do and not to the stories we've read. [Hold the stories up to show students.]

Give students space to polish their writing. Rotate the room to support students.